Penn State football: Freshman running back Isaiah Zuber has agreed to transfer Isaiah Zuber, the No. 57 overall pick in the 2017 draft, decided to transfer to Penn State this fall, the school announced Tuesday. Zuber, a four-star recruit out of Groton (Mass.) Community Charter High School, originally committed to Rutgers. He joins running back Saquan Barkley in the transfer market. "It's been a stressful time, a hard decision," Zuber said in a statement. "My first preference was to be part of the team and compete right away. The coaches and staff are still great. I wish them the best of luck. With my options exhausted, I decided it's best for me to go someplace else. It's not about me, I'm all about the team. I am excited for the future of Penn State football. If I can help, then I will. Wish I could say more, but it's final." Penn State has yet to release an official announcement, but Zuber's name appeared in a head coach search news release. Zuber's departure means Josh Hicks will be Penn State's top returning running back. Hicks was second on the team with 804 rushing yards and seven touchdowns last fall. With Zuber's departure, Penn State loses a former commitment. Zuber was listed at No. 77 in the 3e33713323
