In the past 10 years, evidence has accumulated supporting a role for protein modification by enzymes of the ubiquitin system in the recognition and degradation of specific proteins. These protein modifications can lead to the destruction of proteins by proteases. We have recently suggested that such a system may be involved in the degradation of proteins that are anomalously modified, or conformationally "unstable", or are abnormally phosphorylated. This review focuses on three major forms of human genetic disease associated with an abnormally high molecular weight of specific heat-shock proteins (HSP). These include the neurodegenerative protein inclusion disorders, Huntington's disease, and Alzheimer's disease.

Q: How to connect to firebase in mobile(Android)

I'm trying to make an app that uses firebase and it was working perfectly on the emulator but when i tested the app on the mobile device, it's not connecting to firebase. I have no idea why. Here is my code:

private void RegisterUser() {
    mAuth.createUserWithEmailAndPassword(mEmail, mPassword) .addOnCompleteListener(this, new OnCompleteListener() { @Override public void onComplete(@NonNull Task task) { if (!task.isSuccessful()) { Toast.makeText(LoginActivity.this, "There was an error
        with the input. Please try again.", Toast.LENGTH_SHORT).show(); } else {
