Q: WPF Multibinding Contains Key I have a MultiBinding Setup like this I would like to pass a string to the Converter and look for it in the ItemX.PropertyName, if it exists the itemX is added to a ListView. But I can not seem to pass a key to the Converter.. and it does not seem to have any of the Key-Elements in the Binding. A: Another approach for this is the MultiBinding.ConverterParameter. Here is a short example:

public class Person { public string Name {get;set;} } public class
PersonViewModel : ViewModelBase { private readonly IMultiValueConverter _mvc; public PersonViewModel(IMultiValueConverter mvc) { _mvc = mvc; Items = new List(); Items.Add(new Person {Name = "Martin"}); Items.Add(new Person {Name = "Mary"}); Items.Add(new Person
{Name = "Adam"}); } public IList Items {get;set;} public void DoSomething() { Items.ForEach(p =>
Debug.WriteLine($"{p.Name} is {_mvc(p, "Name", "Loud")}"); } } public class MultiValueViewModel
: ViewModelBase { public IList Items { get; set; } public void DoSomething() { foreach (var item in Items) {
